Program Information:

Participants in this study abroad program will stay in Chiavari, Italy, a hospitable town where modern life blends with the original old characteristics typical of the Ligurian Riviera. Chiavari is situated near the Gulf of Tigullio, in a very green area rich in olive and pine trees. The climate is temperate and offers comfortable and good hospitality in all seasons. In Chiavari, the students will receive intensive Italian language for four weeks. The Italian classes will center around topics such as Italian politics, culture and cinema gleaned from national newspapers. Students will take field trips all over Liguria, and the historically important seaport of Genova, where Columbus lived, Marco Polo was jailed, Garibaldi launched his attempt to unify Italy, and where the intellectual father of Italian nationalism, Giuseppe Mazzini, is buried. In addition, excursions will be taken to Val Gardena, Pisa, Cinque Terre, Portofino and Genova.

Program Director:

Dr. Massimo Maggari, Department of Italian, maggiarim@cofc.edu, 843-953-5489

Professor Maggari received his doctoral degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. A native of Genova, Italy, Dr. Maggari has taught for several years in the U.S. and has traveled extensively in Europe, North America, and Iceland. He has directed this summer program to Chiavari on numerous occasions in the past, including summer 2011.
